

Faversham Society Newsletter

January 2019

657

The most polluted place in the borough of Swale is Ospringe Street – and polluted air gathers in the dip in the road where mothers and children cross the A2

See page 8

From the chairman

HAROLD GOODWIN

Over the next 10 years, Faversham faces as much, perhaps more, change than we experienced with the arrival of the railway in 1858. The Faversham Society will continue to pursue its objectives of conserving our heritage and seeking to create new heritage for the future.

We have housing developments all around the perimeter of our town, increasing traffic and air pollution that will be exacerbated if East Kent Recycling is permitted to expand at Oare. The Faversham Society will remain active on these threats and opportunities. If you would like to assist us with this important part of our work, please get in touch. We need all the help we can get!

Gladman, the proponent of the “garden village” between the M2 and Sheldwich, has agreed to speak at a public meeting in St Mary of Charity Parish Church at 7.30pm on Wednesday, 16 January. The company says its proposal has the capacity to deliver up to 5,000 homes, a major urban

A full printed or digital version of this newsletter is available to Faversham Society members